

ABSTRACT

A decorated product including a non-decorative structural part and a decorative structural part that is affixed to a surface of the non-decorative structural part. The decorative part including a composite material that has a non-metallic substrate containing at least one polymer and a metallic layer deposited thereon without applying an external current and the composite material having an adhesive strength of at least 4 N/mm<sup>2</sup>.